RICS HOMEBUYERS REPORT (LEVEL2)

A Homebuyers Report is a RICS Level 2 survey specifically tailored for conventional properties that are less than 70 years old.

Assessing the overall condition of the building, the report serves as a valuable tool for buyers to make informed decisions regarding the property purchase. Moreover, the RICS Level 2 Homebuyers Report includes an independent valuation, providing a value based on comparable evidence and evaluating the agreed price, thereby instilling confidence in proceeding with the sale.

Our reports are compiled using a well-built and formatted template, ensuring ease of understanding for clients. We employ the RICS standard reporting traffic light system, enabling clients to easily identify areas of the property that require attention

Your report will be conducted by one of our seasoned RICS accredited surveyors. Following the receipt of your report, our aftercare team stands ready to promptly address any questions you may have, facilitated by either your surveyor or our specialists in the head office.

Upon your instruction, all you need to do is provide us with the necessary details, and we will take care of the rest on your behalf. If there is involvement from an estate agent, we will coordinate access directly with them.

RICS BUILDING SURVEYS (LEVEL 3)

Our RICS Level 3 Building Surveys represent the most comprehensive and thorough reports in our repertoire. We strongly recommend opting for a Level 3 building survey for older properties, listed buildings, or structures that are unconventional or have undergone significant alterations.

Our team of surveyors boasts diverse backgrounds, including RICS, CABE, and CIOB members, providing us with a wealth of knowledge in structural matters and positioning us as experts in conducting your structural survey. RICS Level 3 Building Surveys are specifically designed to evaluate the construction and structural integrity of the building.

In our commitment to offering exceptional value to our clients, we go the extra mile by providing estimated costings for any necessary remedial work. Opting for an RICS Level 3 building survey will furnish you with a comprehensive understanding of the property's construction, highlighting any potential issues related to materials and techniques used.

This insight proves invaluable for your purchase, as it sheds light on anticipated maintenance needs and required work post-acquisition.

Furthermore, if you find yourself incurring costs beyond the property's value, you may have the opportunity to renegotiate with the seller.

Upon completion of any of our reports, our aftercare team will reach out to provide you with the final report. Any inquiries you may have will be promptly addressed by either the surveyor or our specialists in the head office. Instructing us is straightforward. Simply provide us with the property details and, if applicable, the estate agent's information, and we will take care of the rest on your behalf.

Corinne Walker

I couldn't fault our recent experience of a Level 3 survey with River Crest. Every step, from the initial phone call to chat through the survey options, to administrative correspondence with the very friendly and helpful Carol, to the incredibly comprehensive and detailed survey and report, to our debrief call to go through questions and important points from the report, River Crest were impeccable the whole way. Definitely recommend. On top of such an extensive survey, they were incredibly quick to action it and even sent us the report the very next day! The price was very competitive (we asked them to beat another company's quote) and overall it was a pleasure working with them.

Thanks very much :)
